Penfield Town Clerk Elected Vice President of Cornell Municipal Clerks Institute

PENFIELD, N.Y., AUGUST 2, 2012 – Penfield Town Clerk Amy M. Steklof attended the Cornell Municipal Clerks Institute (CMCI) July 8-12 at Cornell University in Ithaca, NY and was elected Vice President of CMCI’s first year class by her peers.

CMCI is a premium educational opportunity provided by a partnership between the City and Village Clerks, the Town Clerks Association of the State of New York, New York State Association of Clerks of County Legislative Boards and Cornell University’s Community and Regional Development Institute.

Forty-two clerks from around New York State and Pennsylvania attended the Institute, and 11 officials and clerks visited for a one-day program on July 11.

Chris Sampson, a former telecommunications industry executive with an MBA in Executive Management, and currently the First Vice President of the New York State Town Clerks Association, said that “CMCI provides a level of technical training and management development experiences analogous to the training I received in the private sector as part of my preparation for executive management.”

Amy Steklof commented, “Attending the Cornell Municipal Clerks Institute was a unique experience and strong professional development opportunity. It was especially meaningful to learn alongside my peers from across the state.”

The awards banquet was held at the Finger Lakes Wine Center, where graduates of the Certified Municipal Clerk (CMC) and Master Municipal Clerk (MMC) programs were recognized.
